- 1 Superb 31" bronze figure of Henry Clay by famed sculptor Thomas Ball, Boston, 1858. Ball also did a matching figure of Daniel Webster. I have owned three or four examples of the Webster, but back in the 80's and 90's I searched in vain for an example of the Clay. My collection of American historical ceramics includes both the Clay and Webster in parian (unglazed white porcelain), and I sold a duplicate Clay parian figure in my catalog some years ago for $14,500. In 38 years as a full time dealer this is the only Clay bronze I have had the opportunity to acquire. Another example is in the United States Senate Art Collection at the Capitol. Excellent condition. 17,000.
- 2 Extremely rare cabinet photo of Geronimo published by Murillo (St. Louis), negative copyright by H. W. Wyman, 1904. A pose I have never seen before, but obviously offered at the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair, where Geronimo was one of the most famous attractions. Authentically autographed on the reverse, in pencil (as expected), boldly inscribed with child-like characters he learned to carefully form to please autograph seekers. Some soiling and minor wear at lower right corner of mount, a couple of diagonal creases at lower right. A spectacular rarity. 8,750.
- 3 Marvelous large Steiff figure of Teddy Roosevelt as a Rough Rider. The mohair horse stands 38" tall on a sturdy triangular steel base. Teddy is about 28", wearing a cloth uniform. Complete with hat, gloves, boots, stirrups, reins, and even Teddy's glasses. Steiff tag on his pocket, yellow button tag in horse's ear. Near mint. I will deliver this in person if feasible. 6,350.
- 4 I sold this superb item probably 20 years ago, and recently had the chance to re-acquire it. 15" brass surveyors compass by Frederick Heisely, Harrisburg PA, circa 1847. Dial engraved with eagle, flags, swords, "A Little More Grape Captain Bragg", reference to Zachary Taylor's famous order to Braxton Bragg at the Battle of Buena Vista. Superb condition. Original brass lid and wood case are not shown in catalog. 7,750.
- 5 I don't do much with Third Reich material, but this was too rare and too macabre to pass up. Incredible German medical text on Congenital Diseases of the Nervous System, 196 pages, softcover, 1935. Cover has rubber stamp of the Auschwitz concentration camp. Inside cover with owners stamp signed in the intended place by Dr. Josef Mengele, the infamous "Angel of Death" and the most wanted of the Nazi war criminals who managed to escape Europe. One of the rarest Nazi autographs. Excellent condition, just a couple of minor spots on the cover. 4,750.
- 6 Previously unrecorded (I think) pewter rim medallion "Genl Andrew Jackson", civilian portrait, name below. Large size 83 mm (3-1/4"), mirror reverse. Essentially mint, tiny loop from top missing. 6,950.
- 7 Spectacular and unique California spoon. Top of cast silver handle with Liberty figure, miner with pick, mountains, "EUREKA". At base of handle is fully three dimensional cast silver bear standing atop a cluster of gold quartz nuggets. The large gold bowl has an all over hammered nugget design. The central gold disc has a raised figure of Fort Mason in rose gold. The engraved sunset over the Golden Gate is centered by a mine cut diamond representing the sun. Length 6". Without a doubt the best spoon I have ever owned. 5,500.
- 8 Rare 1848 Martin Van Buren silk. He holds a document that reads "Free Soil and Freedom of the Public Lands to Actual Settlers". All Van Buren ribbons are rare, and those from his 1848 Free Soil campaign are always in demand. Virtually mint. 2,350.
- 9 One of my favorite pieces in the catalog. Large 18" Northwest coast dagger with 11" slightly convex copper blade, hide wrapped carved raven handle with abalone eyes. Excellent condition. Slight wear (as there should be) to the high point ridges on the handle, couple insignificant small corrosion spots on blade. 3,500.
- 10 Extremely rare papier mache cigar case that I haven't seen before. Very youthful portrait "General Scott" in blue uniform, red collar, fancy gold over red epaulettes. Beautiful bright condition. 7,500.
- 11 (photo came out dark) Wonderful gold quartz matchesafe. Obverse with large quartz slab surrounded by engraved panels. Reverse finely engraved scene "Sutters Mill 1851" with great detail of operations, workers, buildings, trees. Owners name in panel above the scene "A B Browne May 5, 1900". Oval quartz panel on top, striker on base. Superb! 11,000.
- 12 1848 Zachary Taylor campaign bandana 21 x 25, his portrait surrounded by scenes of Palo Alto, Buena Vista, Monterey, Resaca de la Palma. Generally superb condition - a couple minor little holes and tears (the longest less than an inch) in the otherwise strong cotton fabric. All images bold and bright. 7,350.
- 13 Incredible carved soapstone inkwell of Cato Freeman, a black Revolutionary War soldier who served in the 3rd and 7th Connecticut Regiments from 1778-1781. Iconography includes the all-seeing eye (he was probably a Freemason) and a coiled snake similar to the Join or Die motif seen early in the war. Dated 1790, with his name carved around the other three side panels. Length 4-1/2", minor chipping at one corner, overall excellent. Accompanied by additional info, including a photo of his gravestone in the Butternut Valley Cemetery, Burlington NY. 8,750.
- 14 Superb George Washington hardstone cameo in fancy 1-3/4 gold mount. The mount is in the design of a belt wrapped around the cameo, with black enamel details. Circa 1820's - 1840's, pristine condition. 1,700.

White Men Shot
WITHOUT REVOCATION AT ASHPOLE, N. C.

Lumberton N. C. Oct. 23
A dangerous riot occurred at Ashpole this county last night. Negroes to the number of forty or fifty, all armed,
came in early in the evening, threatening to kill the white people and burn
the town. The white citizens hastily armed themselves and drove the negroes out of the town.

The negroes then promised to dispersed and return to their homes, but guards were left out to protect the people from the black marauders.

Late in the night the guard was fired
on and three white men—Albert Floyd, Robt. Inman and Wm. Ballard were seriously shot.

The ring leaders of the black mob are known and a crowd of one hundred men, heavily armed, are after them with blood-hounds. More trouble is expected. The negroes have been inflamed by incendiary speeches and the white people are determined to quench
it if possible in its incipency.
